DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt of the amendment to claims 23-51 is acknowledged. Claims 23-51 are pending in the application and are presented to be examined upon their merits.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 23-51 are allowed.

4. The closest prior art in the case is Jacoby (US 2002/0107746). Jacoby discloses a computerized information storage, filtering and presentation system configured to facilitate the function of intermediary broker agents in the purchasing and sale of consumable and perishable products, such as dairy goods. The computerized system provides agents of the intermediary broker with filtered information via a communications network identifying the sellers of particular goods, current market purchase prices, and transportation costs for various regions. The computerized system further provides the agents with additional filtered information via the communications network identifying buyers for particular goods and current market selling prices, enabling the agents to efficiently match goods purchased from a seller to a buyer's demand while achieving a desired profit margin. Jacoby fails to disclose in claim 23, receiving at a computer device an attachment request which indicates whether the user is a passive trader or active trader and wherein the established user relationship and the established first association allow the first user to engage in trading activity in the trading system on behalf of the second user via the first connection; and is when the attachment request indicates that the second user is an active trader: (as it is claimed in claim 23 and is further described on page 3, lines 14-31, in the applicant's specification.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
